A REAL OLD TIME RE-UNION

"Why! Hello Barney, you old son of a gun, Old Man Time is sure dealing lightly with you, you don't look much older than when I left you 30 years ago."

"What have I been doing? Oh, just knocking around, ever since I quit the force in '95 I can't seem to settle down. You know Barney as soon as I heard about this Macleod Jubilee, and that was down in Los Angeles, I said to myself, well here's a chance Doc to shake hands with some of the old boys, but I never for a moment thought I should meet so many of them. It's just like old times over again, and after all the old town is worth a while, and they couldn't have staged this celebration in a better place. Look at that Barney, do you get that; old Walker and Saunders talking with Spear Chief, that old savage 'Simulka' he was a wily young Indian wasn't he, he'd go through hell and buck again, if he thought there was any napaki at the finish.

"Why that isn't Jack Herron is it, speaking with Pennefather. Well for the love of Pete, outside of being a little gray, John is as spry as ever, how's she coming Jack?"

"Say Barney, I wouldn't have missed this Jubilee for three years of my life, and the Lord knows they're not very many now. Why hello Gallagher, what, you don't remember me? Sure, I thought you would, can you remember the party with Charlie Reach and Barnes? Don't worry I'm not going to spill the beans, she was sometime eh, Paddy?"

"Hello Harry, I suppose you're making a little fortune out of that Hotel? Do you still follow the ponies at all? Say Harry, tell me, is that Fred Haultain walking with Charlie Wood and Teddy Bryan? Oh Freddy, I'm coming over to see you in a while, you bet I'm having a good time."

"Isn't it wonderful Boys, that we are able to get together again? Who ever thought of this Macleod Jubilee for the Police Veterans and Old Timers, deserves a great big drink of what's now legal. Say where do you think you're going Sam Heap, can you still give me the Derby Winners of twenty years ago. No my boy, you're too slick for me I'm not going to call you. What's that you say, have I seen Primrose, no is he here? Well then tell him from me I'm going to collect that little bet we made, he'll know what you mean, it's twenty five years ago, but he can't get out of it."

"Well, well, if it isn't Ed Larkins, how's everything, Ed? Little tough eh, of course we're not so young as we used to be, but believe me boy, during these three days we're going to forget how old we are, and throw off about 40 years, what do you say Ed, you bet I've got the stuff to do it."

"Come over here Harry and let's shake your hand, if you get much fatter Dowson, you'll explode, goodness alive and here's old Bob Patterson, you couldn't resist the temptation Bob, you had to come in and meet the boys of our day, isn't it great, Bob old son?"

"Say listen Boys, I'm going to have the happiest three days I've had for many a year, oh that's all right Johnny Franklin, I'll ride 'em with you yet, and if I beat you you've got to sing, you know—"A little red bull came down from the Mountains a long time ago" ha, ha, ha, we must go lads, they want every old timer in this parade, and believe me we'll be there, but don't forget this, these three big days July 1st, 2nd and 3rd in Macleod will be three wonderful days of reunionism we'll never forget."

THE MACLEOD JUBILEE

"Go West, young man, go West!" This wise remark was quoted by Horace Greely, many years ago to one of the younger generation who was looking for prosperity. On July 1st, 2nd and 3rd in Macleod, we are going to beat Horace Greely altogether, for we are going back to the early West, back to the days of the log shacks, and buffaloes, the pioneers, the whiskey traders, the Indians, and the first law bringers of Western Canada—the North West Mounted Police. Macleod is going to be taken back forty or fifty years, and the people during these three wonderful days are going back with it. You will have the one opportunity, that only occurs once in a lifetime of living the West, the early west over again.

Every day the Managing Committee are receiving letters and communications from all over Canada, written by old timers and pioneers who are coming to Macleod for the Jubilee, more especially for a re-union with their oldtime comrades. Many of these oldtimers have formed camping parties, and will pitch their tents on the banks of the Old Man River, and sit before their camp fires, and swap yarns and stories of those dear old early days.

The huge spectacular pageant is getting larger and more picturesque as the time draws on towards the first of July, there will be more organizations represented than at first anticipated, there will be more floats, more cowboys, more Indians, in fact it is impossible to describe the gloriousness of this great attraction of the Jubilee.

Already special programs are being arranged for a grand reunion of ex-Mounted Policemen, followed by a real oldtime smoking concert. Entries are being received for the Stampede events, where Canada's leading riders and ropers will compete against the World for the championships in Cowboy sports and pastimes.

Fast going race horses have already been entered for the racing program, and the best from Claresholm, Lethbridge and other stables will be seen on the track.

Now and then you'll meet a sour faced pessimist who'll tell you "Macleod cannot stage such a huge carnival, and the people won't be here"—Macleod not only can, but is going to stage this Jubilee, also we are assured of the people coming.

The Macleod Jubilee is going to prove itself as one of the largest pageant attractions, depicting the days of the early West to the present time, that has ever been portrayed before.

The prize lists and illustrated folders can now be obtained, if you have not received one write the Macleod Jubilee.

Remember the dates July 1-2-3—Three of the most wonderful days of enjoyment and thrills, that has ever been offered to the public.

Mr. Tourist, here's a tip for you—Arrange your holiday to be in Macleod on these three days, there will be lots of accommodation for campers and others, and you'll never regret spending July 1st, 2nd and 3rd in Macleod. One great and glorious Jubilee, that cannot and never will be surpassed.

GETTING READY FOR MACLEOD'S BIG JUBILEE

The Macleod Residents are already getting the Jubilee spirit, and Tuesday night the sidewalks of 24th Street between 2nd and 3rd Avenues were given over to lovers of open air summer dancing. There was a large jolly assembly who stepped and glided to the bewitching strains of the Macleod Band, who performed to perfection. It is quite evident open air dancing is going to prove a great success this summer in Macleod. Of course one hears, now and then, a pessimistic soul deriding the rotten condition of the sidewalks, the jarriiness of the music, the coolness of the evening, but we have the consolation that if there wasn't any knocking to be done, it would be a poor look-out for the hamster business.

The meeting held at the Town Hall last Tuesday evening for the nomination of May Queen candidates, was largely attended, the gentler sex being much in the majority. President J. W. MacDonald of the Jubilee called the meeting to order, and explained the origin of the electing and crowning of May or Carnival Queens, also the penalty that would be paid by any candidate refusing nomination. The penalty would be collected by Secretary Winter, in the event of his refusal, the President would then receive the salute himself.

REMARKABLE COURT DANCE

Dancing in a stationary skirt! In a court scene which was filmed for Pola Negri's new star picture, "The Spanish Dancer," produced for Paramount by Herbert Brenon, twenty girls perform a ballet without a single movement of the skirt being visible. The entire ballet was done with motions from the waist up. Their feet remained motionless.

The girls appear in costumes of black velvet. The skirts are spread outward from the hips with the enormous panniers popular in the early part of the seventeenth century. Across the front of the velvet skirt run two broad bands of silver. These bands are waved and as the girls stand hip to hip with swaying shoulders, the silver bands appear to flow like running water. The ballet dance is part of elaborately costumed court scenes, which take place in the throne room in the royal palace in Madrid.

"The Spanish Dancer," which comes to the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, is one of the most dramatic stories ever filmed. It is the first costume picture in which Pola Negri has starred since she came to America. Featured opposite Pola Negri is Antonio Moreno with Wallace Beery, Kathryn Williams, Gareth Hughes, Adolphe Menjou and Robert Agnew heading a strong cast.

COSTLY PICTURE SETS

About in Pola Negri's Picture "The Spanish Dancer"

It cost as much to build the interior sets for the production of Pola Negri's new star vehicle, "The Spanish Dancer," which comes to the Empress theatre next Monday for two days, as it did to furnish the Margaret Shields, L. Thewlis, Wilma Swinerton, Isabel McLean, Betty Watson and Olive Young.

These young ladies will be balloted on next Wednesday afternoon at the Town Hall between the hours of two and five. Every person will be eligible to vote providing they are of the age of fourteen years. The returning officers will be A. D. Forgunson and R. J. E. Gardiner. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes will be elected Queen, and the next six in order will have the honored places of Maids-in-Waiting to her majesty.

After the balloting next Wednesday a very pretty table cover will be raffled off, the proceeds of which will go towards the defraying of expenses by the Girls Club for special attractions for the Jubilee.

MEETING OF JUBILEE COMMITTEE

The Royal North West Mounted Police are taking a prominent part in the Macleod Jubilee program, on July 1st, 2nd and 3rd at Macleod, Supl. Junkett, in charge of the Lethbridge Division of the R. C. M. P. accompanied by Inspector Mellor, attended the meeting of the Jubilee Managing Committee Wed. afternoon, and discussed an excellent program that will be given by the Mounted Police during the three days. There will be a full program of mounted sports, including Musical Rides, tent pegging and sword exercises. The Military Display will be under the command of Sgt. Major Griffin, of Lethbridge. The Mounted Police will act as escort to the Mayor and the Lieutenant Governor, who will be a big feature in the grand Pageant on July 1st.

All committees reported satisfactory progress, and final preparations are now being made for the three big days.

There will be ample accommodation for everyone and special quarters are being set aside for ex-members of the North West Mounted Police.

Inspector Bavin, of the A. P. P., Lethbridge, was in attendance, and assured the meeting that he would look after the policing of the Town, assisted by the local police during the Jubilee, with mounted and special constables.

The Secretary is receiving hundreds of applications each day, asking for reservations, and particulars of the Jubilee.

Oldtimers are coming en masse, and it is quite evident from correspondence received the Macleod Jubilee is going to prove itself to be one of the greatest historical pageants ever held in Canada.

"THE OLD TIMER"

(By Seeckay)

Have you ridden the great wide prairie? The Sea of the Western land, Have you felt it's call to Nature?

Have you bowed to its command? Were you one of the early brotherhood? That sought the prairie's wealth, Its richness in soil for those that toil, A toil that brings gladness and health.

Have you gazed on its wondrous grandeur? With its rolling hills and plain, Have you felt its cooling breezes? Fall soft on your fevered brain.

Have you slept when the stars are shining, Like God's eyes guarding you, Are you one of the early brotherhood? Are you one of the chosen few?

Are you one of the great pathfinders?

original castles in Spain, from which these heroes, Brown, producer of this lavish Paramount picture, is the author of this statement. He bases his calculations upon the cheapness of labor during the sixteenth century as compared with labor costs of today. The gorgeousness of the interior scenes of this photoplay is said to surpass any picture ever made. Heavy silken caparisons, cloth of gold and mosaic of rare design fashioned after original decorations in old Spanish palaces were used. Antonio Moreno is featured as leading man in this splendid picture production.

HUGHES' QUEER TASK

His Role in "The Spanish Dancer" Has Strange Significance

The strangest task ever given a player in motion pictures has fallen to the lot of Gareth Hughes in Pola Negri's new Paramount star picture, "The Spanish Dancer," which will be the feature at the Empress Theatre for two days beginning Monday.

Cringing under the lash which falls across his naked back in one of the strongest scenes in this fascinating story of old Spain, Gareth Hughes visualizes the sufferings of one of his own ancestors, who underwent similar torture by officers of the Inquisition. The story has been a tradition in the Hughes family for four centuries. According to the tale, a certain David Hughes sailed from Cardiff in 1600 in an English trading ship. The vessel was captured by the Spaniards and taken into Cadiz where Hughes and his companions were tortured by officers of the Inquisition. Many died but Hughes survived. He was kept in close confinement and died in captivity many years later.

Hughes' role in "The Spanish Dancer" is that of Lazarillo, Hughes reacts to the grim tragedy which befell his long dead ancestor. "The Spanish Dancer" is Pola Negri's third American made picture.

ROYAL GOWN WORN BY POLA NEGRI

Sixty yards of material in a single costume! Created for Pola Negri to be worn in scenes for her current starring picture, "The Spanish Dancer," a brilliant costume of velvet and gold ribbon contains enough material for ten dresses.

Although so much material was used, the dress appeared almost severe in its simplicity owing to the chaste lines of the bodice. Below the waist, the scarlet satin fell from the hips in lines and ruffles. Miss Negri wore the scarlet satin costume in a garden fete which occurs in "The Spanish Dancer," a Paramount feature coming to the Empress Theatre next Monday for two days.

One hundred ladies-in-waiting to Queen Isabelle, played by Kathryn Williams, appeared in this scene. Each wears a dress containing twelve yards of velvet. Over twelve hundred yards of gold lace were used in making the costumes for this group of players. The dresses were sewn over with bushels of pearls.

In keeping with the fashions of the period, each lady-in-waiting wears an elaborate head-dress containing sufficient hair to supply five heads with ample covering. Featured opposite Miss Negri in "The Spanish Dancer" is Antonio Moreno. An unusually strong cast is headed by Wallace Beery, Kathryn Williams, Gareth Hughes, Adolphe Menjou and Robert Agnew.

Gladys Walton played her film career as a "bathing beauty," but in the course of her progress up the ladder to screen fame, her aquatic ability was almost forgotten by the motion picture public. In "The Wild Party," her latest starring vehicle for Universal, she proves that her skill as a swimmer and fancy diver has not diminished. There isn't much film devoted to the "water stuff," but what there is has a kick. Miss Walton's latest triumph is showing at the Empress theatre Friday and Saturday.

When she was shown a working script for "The Wild Party," her latest starring vehicle, which will be shown at the Empress Theatre Friday and Saturday, she gave a joyous exclamation.

"Hurrah! Look what I have to do!"

Of this noble Western land, Where in those early by-gone days, Man ruled by strength of hand, Have you hunted the fierce buffalo? Or camped with a redskin brave? Have you fought the prairie fire? Your camp and kit to save.

Have you ridden the plains in winter? Faced the blizzards perils too, Felt the sharp teeth of the frost wind?

When he starts to gnaw you through, Do you know what it is to be snow-blind?

With companions miles away; When you sit in your cabin and suffer, And for death, you earnestly pray.

Have you ridden the prairie in summer? With tropical heat so strong, And the flies just sending you crazy, When your head starts going wrong?

When everything seems a quiver, And the grass right under your feet, Will shrivel, and die, and wither, From the terrible drying heat.

Do you know what it is to be lonely? To feel gloomy and sad and blue, With only the howl of a prairie wolf, Sounding a death knell to you.

When you long for a friend or companion, The comfort of home once again, And you rave, and curse, and wonder, How long you will stand the strain.

Have you lived on flour and bacon? With never a change in food, For weeks on end, because of drifts, You couldn't face the road, Do you know what it is to have heartache?

For a mother, or friend or wife, When you feel that something inside has gone; And you hate the thought of life.

When all of Youth's passion hued romance, Is recalled by your fevered brain, And with babbling tongue you're repeating,

Those forgotten love stories again; And you come to yourself in the morning, Racked with sickness and pain you lie,

But you know that it's no good complaining, If you don't win the fight, why, you die.

Now if you have suffered these hardships, In those good old early days, Before the learned civilized ways, You'll understand OLDTIMER.

You're one of the chosen few; A pioneer, of a now great land, That wants to thank you Oldtimer and do.

"From Cowboy Carols"

THE NEW REST ROOM

There will be a ladies and children's rest room with first aid station on 24th Street, which will be situated on the vacant lot east of A. P. Grady's office. The new spacious building was formerly the school building, south of the track, which has been successfully moved by Contractor Skelding and now placed in position on Main Street. The new building is thirty five feet square and will supply ample accommodation for the purposes for which it is required.

ARE YOU HAVING A FLOAT

Will all those merchants, farmers and others who intend having a float in the forthcoming Jubilee Pageant, kindly send in their names and the description of their floats to J. B. Sutherland, Chairman of the pageant committee, on or before June 21st. You are asked as many as possible, to have a float or decorated car in the procession, helping to make the Macleod Jubilee Pageant the most picturesque and wonderful ever staged in Canada before.

IMPORTANT TO YOU

THE JUBILEE CELEBRATION will commence on the morning of the 1st of July at ten o'clock with an historical Pageant. The route of the Pageant will be definitely and fully advertised.

It is the wish of the Controlling Committee that all citizens should be urged to make the Celebration a grand success. It will be of great assistance to have as many floats as possible constructed and operated by the merchants, organizations, school districts and other bodies who can help in this way. Let us all remember that by a united effort we can make the event an historical one of great importance. It is the plain duty of all citizens to assist in every way possible. Let us avoid making criticism of the efforts of those who are instrumental in bringing about this event our role contribution to its success.

A great opportunity is presented to Macleod and its citizens of doing some real good to the Town. Any assistance which the citizens render by way of decoration or otherwise will be gratefully accepted by the Committee upon whom the main responsibility rests.

J. W. McDonald, Mayor, and President of Controlling Committee.

MACLEOD'S TOURIST CAMP BEST IN THE WEST

"We are confident in saying that your new and up-to-date Tourist Camp No. 2 is the best we have ever stopped at during three years of holiday making by auto. We thank you and will tell others."

This is one of the many compliments paid to Macleod's new Tourist Camp, and written in the register by two tourists from California.

The new camp is ideally situated and has the advantage of being able to offer to Tourists, that which in most cases other camps cannot. The building was formerly the Inspectors quarters of the Mounted Police Barracks. There are six large clean airy rooms, a large bathroom with hot and cold water both night and day. Two big electric cooking stoves, in the kitchen, with hot and cold water over sink, electric light in each room, table, chairs, pots, pans and every imaginable convenience, even to a fine cinder tennis court in front of the building. The Camp is only 100 yards from the first tee of the splendid nine hole golf course, which all tourists have free use. The camp was opened on June 1st and already it has been largely patronized by tourist traffic. It proved a "Heaven de Luxe" during the last few days of heavy rainy weather, when the electric stoves, and hot baths proved an unexpected blessing to the wet, cold mud-stained and tired tourist, who for the previous few hours had been plowing through greasy mud in the pouring rain.

"THE SPANISH DANCER" COMING

"The Spanish Dancer," a Herbert Brenon production for Paramount, starring Pola Negri, will be the big attraction at the Empress theatre next Monday and Tuesday. The story deals with the love romance of a gypsy girl of rare beauty in Spain during the reign of Philip IV. Every scene has a thrill of its own and Pola Negri's role is one of extraordinary dramatic strength. Antonio Moreno plays opposite the star.

Gladys Walton started her film career as a "bathing beauty," but in the course of her progress up the ladder to screen fame, her aquatic ability was almost forgotten by the motion picture public. In "The Wild Party," her latest starring vehicle for Universal, she proves that her skill as a swimmer and fancy diver has not diminished. There isn't much film devoted to the "water stuff," but what there is has a kick. Miss Walton's latest triumph is showing at the Empress theatre Friday and Saturday.

Regular meeting of the Women's Institute, Wednesday, June 18th—at 3 o'clock in I.O.O.F. Hall.

Macleod's Lovely Girls—Compete for Carnival Queen Honors

Following are the names of the lovely girls of Macleod who will compete for the honor of representing the home town as Carnival Queen at the Macleod Jubilee:

Nellie Drinkwater, Lillian Hicks, Olive Lambert, Lillian Webb, Cora Hicks.

Dolly Genge, Dorothy Dufour, Margaret Shield, Wilma Swinerton, Betty Watson. Election to be held in the Town Hall on Wednesday afternoon, June 18th from two to seven. Age of voters—14 years and over. Voters entitled to one vote only.

ROADS IN GOOD SHAPE

If the Jubilee accomplished nothing else, it has been instrumental in securing for the Town, splendid roads, free from rocks, and smooth easy riding for the autoing tourist. Second Avenue from the Empire Hotel to 24th Street is a veritable academised highway, and never have the streets and avenues in Macleod been put in better shape. There has been a general clean-up of all roads, and what with a touch of paint there, and a heap of rubbish being removed there, Macleod is already beginning to don its Jubilee garments. The baseball diamond has been fixed up, the tennis courts put in excellent condition, and the Town roller working away smoothing down the stones and roughplaces on these two sport centres.

Macleod is going to show the Jubilee visitor that it still maintains the title of the best Town in Alberta.

Local Sport News

BASEBALL

Although Claresholm beat Macleod to the tune of five to four in the second game of the League on Monday evening last at the home diamond, it is not for one moment saying that Claresholm had the best of the game. In the first innings Macleod batted Frederickson all over the lot, and with Kirk on first, Clifford Dean goes up and pulls off the "Babe" Ruth stunt, landing a beautiful homer bringing in two runs. The innings closed with a blaze of glory for the localites with a four run lead.

In the second innings McMurray the local hurler weakened and Claresholm taking advantage of this offer, took hold of the sphere, and before McMurray was taken from the box they had scored five runs. "Spud" Murphy then took the mound and from then on the game was worthwhile, not a another run being scored by either side. Both Pitchers played excellent ball, and Berg and Dillingham the catchers are to be congratulated on their individual performances. Macleod should have won but Fate ruled otherwise, therefore what's the good of kicking. Ray Baker was umpire of hits and strikes, while Fred Staines umpired bases, Fred did his best no doubt, but—well as we said before "what's the good of kicking". On Friday Macleod journeys to Staveland and there will lock horns with "Slim" Haynes aggregation, let's hope the boys will triumph.

So far in the league Macleod has won and lost a game, not too bad for a bunch of young'uns.

BASEBALL COMMENTS

No Joe, we cannot understand why they named Base Umpire Staines.

Domination, hour by hour, making the man in Montreal and the man in Vancouver neighbors in point of common enlightenment, the Canadian Press is the great crystallizer of Canadian public opinion.

Without this unity of public opinion in Canada, this nation would not long be an economic nor political entity.

The natural trading and business area of the Maritimes would be with the New England states. The natural trading area of British Columbia would be with Oregon, Washington and California. With the divergence of economic lines would come the inevitable shilling of political lines.

And not only does the Canadian Press hold Canada together, but it bears the responsibility of maintaining good will between this country and the United States. If the press of Canada were false to its duty of presenting straight facts to its readers and chose to indulge in inflammatory propaganda even for a month,
this continent would have the makings of a second Europe with all Europe's grudges, hatreds and misunderstandings.

Peace depends upon understanding.
Understanding depends upon a knowledge of facts. And upon the press devolves the duty of bringing to the Canadian public a daily budget of facts.

The future of civilization rests with the English-speaking peoples of the North American continent and upon the existence of good will between those peoples.

The Canadian Press, nourishing
that good will, is a servant of civilization and a progressive force in the evolution of mankind.

ARE HUMORISTS LOSING
POPULARITY

The somewhat surprising disclosure has been made, according to a news item which purports to quote from a recent catalogue issued by the Chautauqua Managers in the United States, that the public seems to have lost its taste for humor of the professional variety, or, more specifically, for humorists. It is stated by those who arrange and prepare these Chautauqua circuit attractions that they have not "had a call for a humorist in five years." And yet it is probable that never in the history of newspaper making and magazine publishing has there been a greater effort than during this same five-year period to manufacture and market the products of the professional humorists' art. Many of the newspapers and magazines with large subscription and sales lists regularly devote space to the "col-ums" written or assembled by high-salaried specialists, evidently upon the theory that the public demands and appreciates this service. It remains to be determined whether the declared unpopularity of the "humor" among Chautauqua patrons is due to an aversion for what the professional humorists offer, or to the fact that plenty of such material is available in published form. Maybe the conclusion is that enough is as good as a feast.

But the suspicion is inescapable
that some newspaper and magazine publishers have overestimated the value to their readers of these so-called humorous departmental features. The American people have not lost the ability to smile. Upon occasions they even laugh. But they may sometimes be inclined to resent the too frequent direction of the humorous writer to "smile here," or to "laugh now." The formulas made use of may sometimes seem threadbare and hackneyed.

One column conductor seeks to treat lightly the observation of the Chautauqua representatives that while the public wants humor the demand is that there shall "be something more—a religious or educational value." That, naturally, this particular critic claims he cannot quite comprehend. Perhaps this suggests the key to the whole matter.
Because this specification has not been met, the humorist has failed to appeal to the masses as some of his predecessors, who were philosophers as well as humorists, found it not at all difficult to do. A long list might be compiled of the names of those American writers and speakers who were not ashamed to offer something of a "religious or educational value" along with their lighter comments.
"Mr. Dooley," without his philosophy,
"would never have attained the position to which his sponsor elevated him. Russell H. Conwell, while reversing the process, has combined humor with religion and philosophy
in a most acceptable blending. "Bob"
Burdette, "Bill" Nye, Mark Twain,

hops it was because of this that they were listened to with interest by those who had been amused and at the same time instructed by the things they wrote.

(Conducted by Miss Alice L. Webb,

"DATES, THEIR VIRTUES"
William Salmon, in a Family Dictionary printed in 1705, thus describes "Dates, Their Virtues".
"Dates: Of these there are divers kinds, and as to their Physical Virtues, some of them are dry and binding, as those of Egypt; others are soft, moist and sweet, as those growing in Syria, Palestine, and Jericho; the rest are a mean between those two kinds; Eaten often they ease Coughs, restore in Consump-tions, and make Fat. But the Pouder of the Stones is successfully taken by such as spit Blood, or are troubled with the Bloody-flux. Or thus: Take the Pouder of the Stones, Pouder of Eggs-hells Levigated (reduced to an impalpable powder or paste), of each half a dram; mix and give it in any convenient Vehicle against all inward Bleedings, or Spitting of Blood: it famously stops
it when most other things fail".
I do not know how modern medical practice looks on this advice, but Miss Mary Sutherland, extension specialist in dietetics at the State College of Washington, in sponsor for the following recipe for Date Pudding which she says is much better for children than pies and rich cakes.

DATE PUDDING
Sift together a teaspoon of baking powder, a cup of sugar, a cup of flour (pastry flour preferred) and a few grains of salt. Add three tablespoons of water to the yolks of three eggs and beat until light. Add to this liquid two cups of seeded dates and a cup of chopped nuts, stir in the dry ingredients and mix well. Fold in the beaten whites of the eggs and bake in a moderate oven half an hour.
Serve it with hard sauce or with whipped cream.

TWO BASTING STITCHES
Basting, used to hold two or more pieces of material together, until a strong stitch can secure them, is generally done either with the even stitch (the stitches are spaced between the same length) or the uneven (a long stitch and a short space between). It is sewed from right to left, begun with a knot, kept on the right side. It is fastened by sewing over and over in the same place once or twice. Even basting is used for seams where there is to be any strain, as in garments to be fitted.

QUEEN'S BROTHER HAS A THRILLING ADVENTURE

Messina, June 7.—(By Canadian Press Cable, via Reuters.)—Earl of Athlone, governor-general of South Africa, and the Princess Alice had a thrilling adventure, if not a narrow escape from being killed while on a hunting expedition in the Transvaal.
The Earl shot and wounded a wild bull which turned and charged straight at his excellency and the princess. The infuriated animal was bearing down on the vice-regal party
and was only a short distance away
when the Earl shot and killed him.
The Earl and Princess were in imminent peril for a short time but the cool and unerring aim of the Earl delivered them from danger.

Say Earl Wounded
London, June 7.—One report of the hunting adventure in which the Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice were endangered, says that the Earl was wounded by the hartbeest. Another says the Princess was forced to take refuge from the infuriated animal behind a tree and that she shot it
at close quarters.

This is the second adventure for the Earl of Athlone and the Princess

SALAD POINTERS

Salad materials should be tender, cold and crisp. Green vegetables should be gathered in the early morning or after sunset, kept in a cool place, closely wrapped in paper or in a closed vessel.
The materials should be symmetrical in shape and neat. They should be carefully dried before the dressing is added, as water and oil do not mix
well.
A salad is well dressed when each bit of the vegetable is lightly coated with the appropriate dressing. Another week we will discuss what dressings should be used with different salads.

Macleod Agricultural Fair Gives Promise of Best For Many Years

The Macleod Fair for 1924 promises to be one of the largest and best fairs held in Macleod for many years. The Directors and Executive Officers are all working hard to make it a very great success. From all accounts coming to hand, the entries for all kinds of live stock will far exceed that of the past few years. Feed is plentiful, thus putting the stock in better condition for the show ring. The majority of farmers are in better shape to devote a few days fitting their stock and bringing them to the fair.

Farmers that have not exhibited for several years, and quite a number who have not exhibited before, are talking of entering horses, cattle, sheep and swine this year. After the splendid rains we have had the display of grains, grasses, vegetables and flowers ought to far surpass anything we have ever seen before at our summer fair, and we have seen some wonderful displays in the past, even in the dry years.

The amusement side of the fair is not being overlooked, for the sports committee under the able and energetic chairmanship of 1st Vice-Pres. Frank Walsh, is preparing a first class programme of sports, including horse races, boxing contests, baseball tournament, foot races and a tug-of-war, in which it is expected a large number of teams will take part.

The prize lists are printed and are being mailed this week. If you do not receive a copy call and get one at once from the secretary.

In the following copy of this prize list will be found a Special Prize under "Plants and Flowers," (which came in after the list was printed.) $5.00 given by Mr. Bruce Sprout, for the best collection of Dahlias. Also a Special Prize by H. V. Clarke, Photographer, (omitted from the list) of 1/2 dozen Cabinet Photos to the winner of the most prizes in grains, grasses and vegetables; Sections 351 to 413.

LADIES

Now a little talk with you. You often give us a little cattish talk about not being enterprising, or not keeping abreast of the times. The principal complaint is the latest style of shoe or sandals. Can you imagine the stock we would have to carry for a small town to please you? Apart from the many new shapes there are so many new leathers—Patent, Fine Calf, Dongola, Suede, Satin, etc. Now, the designers of the boot and shoe fashions are very aggressive—they constantly put new designs on the market—there is no thought about the poor retailer, who has dozens of shoes to job off to make room for your ladyship's fancy. Now, in a large town, where the merchant sees a shoe is hanging fire and likely to be out of fashion he says "Johnny get your gun, we will knock these prices to h—l." He puts them into the window with such tempting offers. A woman is compelled to buy. Probably in a large town they are cleaned out in one day. Then he is foot-loose; he can put in any new style that will be catching for a few weeks. Now, we have tried this way to get rid of stock that hangs fire—but no, it is no good—they won't buy at bargain sales—they are afraid that Bella and Maud will say, "Oh, you bought those shoes at Reach's, they are an old style and are out of fashion."

NORTH COUNTRY ABLAZE

Edmonton, June 7.—The whole country is ablaze for one hundred miles north of McMurray with the fire covering a territory from fifty to seventy-five miles east and west of that point, according to word received here this morning. Colonel J. K. Cornwall, northman, declares it is the worst fire in the past 25 years.

As far as can be learned, the blaze originated on the headwaters of a creek where beaver hunters had established a camp. It is difficult to estimate the potential loss in fur. Practically the entire beaver country has been destroyed. It will be necessary to shut down on beaver for the next five years. The loss in timber is up in the millions of dollars already and the fire is still raging.

Spring is a natural resurrection, and experience of immortality.
